Dear Director,

I am delighted to let you know that the Department of Ecology and Environment of the World Organization For Peace, after thoroughly reviewing the multiple convenience that benefits the environment's present and future, and taking into consideration the low cost obtained from a larger construction of functional homes affordable by everyone, in addition to the possibility of recycling plastic bottles etc, adaptable to their structures and the incorporation of renewable energy, by means of solar panels etc, which allows to reduce the environmental pollution and to provide a useful service to the society.

Therefore, it was decided by Resolution 237/A. Gva of the WOPF, to nominate this innovative and useful eco-friendly home model, the Home Front Homes "Low Energy Home" which conforms to the environmental standards as well as to the standards of good use, as authorized by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

It is our understanding that through everyone's efforts it is possible to build a better future.

Yours faithfully,

Carl
